Space tourism

We are standing at the dawn of unimaginable developments in commercial space travel. It is only a matter of time before a great many people are currently aware that it is already possible to take a trip into space or to enjoy the other pleasures that the space travel industry had to offer.

Your Galaxy wishes to be an important value added in translating the phenomenon of commercial space travel for all humanity. Many ordinary citizens have no idea of the latest opportunities to journey into space or to enjoy the universe as an infinite source of inspiration. To set this right, Your Galaxy is developing a range of international cross-media and mass-media products and concepts, in close cooperation with its affiliated Space Partners.

Getting people involved

The vast majority of these concepts are being developed at the heart of society. That is to say, by inviting artists, designers, universities, performers, politicians and astronauts to express their vision of today's commercial space industry.

In the public interest

Your Galaxy cooperates with public and semi-public bodies, since the economic innovations of commercial and scientific space travel are of great significance to society as a whole.

First commercial space communications consultancy agency

Your Galaxy is proud to lead the way in space tourism, education and public relations in Europe. As market leader we maintain close contact with the key players throughout the world. Your Galaxy motivates and stimulates, is keen to collaborate with others and delivers reliable commercial services in the space travel sector, providing outstanding value for money to suppliers and customers alike.

Business-to-business

The unique combination of space agency and communications consultancy makes Your Galaxy an ideal mediator between companies, organizations (business-to-business) and general public (business-to-business).
